We couldn't be more sad to have said goodbye to some of our campers last week, but are excited to have begun extended week! We have moved lots of toys, art supplies, and games into the tennis shack for the upcoming two weeks. Not only did we spend time on the playground, build creations with Legos, read new books, and played games on the tennis courts, campers had a wonderful time on the trip taken to the Exploratorium on Thursday. Children climbed on the indoor jungle gym, put on dress up clothes in the storybook room, designed train tracks, and splashed around while fishing for rubber ducks in the water tables! No camper could stop smiling from start to finish of the trip! They also adored taking the school bus onto the highway to get there. In addition, we also created crafts in the tennis shack turned art room! We used markers to draw name tags, and paper plates, tissue paper, markers, google eyes to construct fish, and made sculptures with playdough. Campers also walked over to Skokie School to spend time on the playground, play kickball, and run around in the gym! With such a successful first week, we could not be more excited for Monday!
